SENATE AND HOUSE.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

NEARLY THE SAME OLD STORY.

The Silver Debate Continued in the Senate Without Any Action Being Taken. One Bill Passes the House and Several Others Discussed—The Late William Mutchler Remembered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The third act of Tuesday's legislative session was performed yesterday. The actors who played the leading roles were Senators Hill of New York, Butler of South Carolina and Palmer of Illinois, while minor parts were taken by Senators Stewart of Nevada, Doolittle of Idaho, Peffer of Kansas and Hoar of Massachusetts.

The subject of the performance was whether the name of Mr. Teller of Colorado should be entered on the journal of Monday as having been present and having refused to answer when called. The dialogue was brief and near the close of the performance there was a witty suggestion on the part of Mr. Palmer of Illinois that, as Mr. Teller himself had presented the question to the senate he should be treated with that courtesy. He asked unanimous consent to that effect and when it was refused he sat down with a half tragic expression, saying that he abandoned the motion in despair. His remark was followed by a wail from a child in the gallery, after which he exclaimed: "Listen to the echo of my despair."

The closing speech was made by Mr. Butler of South Carolina. After a well-phrased dialogue between him and Senators Hill and Palmer, the galleries applauded once too often and were so sharply rebuked by the vice president that one of the offenders, a well-dressed intelligent man, rose and confessed that he had been a conspicuous transgressor and would leave the gallery, where he had been an accustomed visitor for the last six weeks. Mr. Butler intimated that the galleries were packed for the benefit of Mr. Hill.

At the close of Mr. Butler's speech the motion to amend was withdrawn, the journal of Monday was approved, the morning hour of Tuesday was dispensed with, and at 4:10 the repeal bill was taken up and Mr. Peffer (Pop. Kan.) resumed the speech against it which he began last week.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The house made the bankruptcy bill a continuing special order for Monday next, the measure to be considered in committee of the whole, where it will be open to amendments on each paragraph. A bill was passed granting certain public lands to the territory of Arizona. A bill requiring government aided railroads to provide stations at town sites within the territories where such town sites have been established by the interior department was discussed, but not disposed of.

The printing bill was further considered without final determination. The remainder of the day was consumed in eulogistic addresses of the late William Mutchler of Pennsylvania in respect to whose memory the house, at 8:45, adjourned.

THE WRONG MEN.

General Belie That the Wratten Murderers Are at Large.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Habeas corpus proceedings were begun in the Clark county court in behalf of William Kays, one of the five men now being held in the Jeffersonville penitentiary, charged with the butchery of the Wratten family of six members in Daviess county a few weeks ago. Attorney Tieman, Kays' counsel, says he is prepared to prove a complete alibi for Kays; that a dozen trustworthy people will testify that Kays was far away from the scene of the murder when it was committed.

Warden Patton of the penitentiary testified that he was holding the prisoners on an order from Judge Heffron. A prominent Daviess county lawyer expressed the belief that the authorities were on the wrong scent and that all the arrests would fall to the ground. McCaffory, one of the accused, is a brother-in-law of the head of the buncheted family.

MELLO'S REVOLT.

Forces Massing For a Fight at Rio Janeiro.

MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 20.—The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro sends advice that the revolutionary party under Admiral Mello will probably establish a provisional government at Des- terro.

A general plan of government will be arranged, and a program for offensive and defensive attacks will be mapped out. The leaders hope to obtain recognition from foreign powers.

More Smallpox.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Yesterday F. B. Miller was discovered at 1000 South Walnut street, suffering from smallpox. He has had the disease for two weeks, and has succeeded in secreting the fact. There is great indignation at him, and the whole family was taken to the hospital. Thomas J. Hoover, who had the disease several years ago, and has been acting as a nurse at the hospital, has contracted it again.

Will Likely Recover.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mrs. C. Ward, while carrying a pail of boiling water, fell and spilled the contents on the back of her 4-year-old daughter. The child was terribly scalded, but will likely recover.

IS DR. GRAVES DEAD?

A Sensational Story That He Did Not Commit Suicide.

DENVER, Oct. 20.—The News published a sensational article to the effect that Dr. Graves, the famous prisoner, who was supposed to have committed suicide in jail here, is not dead. It is maintained that a pine log occupied the coffin instead of his body, as was supposed.

The story is that Charles N. Chandler, a wealthy citizen of Thompson Center, Conn., arrived here Tuesday in company with Stephen Morse of the same town, which is Dr. Graves' old home, and where the body is supposed to have been buried. These gentlemen told the hotel proprietor where they stopped that Dr. Graves was not dead, that the casket was opened at the grave in Thompson Center against the protests of the widow, and found to contain a pine log instead of a dead body, and that the supposed dead doctor is now enjoying his liberty in a foreign country.

A rumor has been current here for some time past that the body carried from the cell in the county jail on that Sunday morning was wax, and not the flesh of the alleged famous poisoner, and that this trick had been played in order to give the prisoner his liberty and deceive the public; that the parties to the deception were some high officials and a secret organization.

This rumor was strengthened by the fact that no one was allowed to view the remains except the most intimate friends of the Graves family; and also that Mrs. Graves refused to allow the body to be embalmed before shipping it to Massachusetts, but this is the first time the report has appeared in print.

A CEMETERY FLOODED.

Coffins Were Washed Out and Some of the Corpses Exposed.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—Officers of the Weems line steamers report that a cemetery on Solomon's island was badly washed in Friday's storm. The burial ground was in the yard of the Methodist Episcopal church that stood on the end of a long, low strip of ground, with water on either side. The graves were only slightly above the water level and within 15 feet of the water's edge.

During the storm the waters gradually approached the graves and tombstones. The mounds began to level and the marble slabs to topple. In a short while the grassy surface had disappeared. Many of the tombstones were prostrated and some of the coffins were exposed. Next, the waves completely hid the cemetery, and when the storm subsided the earth was torn and bare and coffins were broken open, corpses were exposed and the clothing of some of the dead was found on the beach.

LOST IN A GREAT CITY.

Two Sisters From the Country Disappear in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Bena and Anna Hederach of Warsaw, Ills., are lost in Chicago. They left their home on Monday, going across the Mississippi river and boarding a Burlington train at Alexandria, Mo. From that place they telegraphed relatives here to meet them at the Union depot. Their aunt, Mrs. Philip Bricker, went to meet them at the station, but did not find them in the immense crowd.

Nothing has been heard of them since they left Alexandria. Bena is 23 and Anna 18, both being strikingly handsome girls. They had both been working at Warsaw, trying to support their aged father, but as they were able to earn only small wages decided to come to Chicago, and after a few days at the fair go to work. Their relatives in Warsaw are anxiously awaiting word from them, and the police department here is putting forth every effort to locate them.

SHELBY IN DANGER.

A Kentucky Murderer Closely Guarded to Prevent Lynching.

BARDWELL, Ky., Oct. 20.—O. M. Sholby was returned from jail at Paducah late yesterday afternoon, and his motion for a new trial will perhaps be settled today. The jail was heavily guarded all night, but no attempt was made to mob or liberate him. Sholby was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Sallie Moore in Ballard county in 1887, and the jury recommended a life sentence, and died suddenly.

Pending his motion for a new trial, he was confined in the jail at Paducah for safekeeping, and in case no new trial is granted his attorney says an appeal will be taken. His nephew, Evan Shelby, after being convicted as a co-worker in the same crime, was hanged by a mob at Wickliff three years ago; but the authorities, and also friends of O. M. Shelby, are taking great precautions to prevent similar proceedings in this case.

HANGING BY HER FOOT. The Engine Cut It Off, but Her Life Was Saved.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—A trestle accident, unique in the history of railroading, is reported from Shamokin, Pa. Across a gorge near Shamokin is a long trestle on the Reading road. Mrs. Miranda Anderson, who lives near Shamokin, was crossing the trestle and when near the middle she heard the rumble of the Reading express train behind her.

It was useless to try to run across the open structure. She therefore leaped for her life, but as she jumped her foot caught between the outer rail and the guard rail and held her fast, head downward, 20 feet above the gorge. The train came on with a rush, cut off her foot, and she dropped head foremost to the brook under the trestle. The coupler had a capacity of 2,500 gallons.

Born on a Barbed Wire Fence.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 20.—The largest moonshine distillery in eastern Kentucky was captured and destroyed near Burkesville last night by Deputy Revenue Collector Thompson and a posse. There were two stills, and after destroying them, the officers found 1,500 gallons of beer and whisky, which they emptied. Tom Turner, one of the operators, was captured. The concern had a capacity of 2,500 gallons.

Born on a Barbed Wire Fence.

MONTGOMERY, O., Oct. 20.—Robert McNeal and wife of Warren county were thrown into a wire fence here in a runaway accident. It is said that the former can not recover from his injuries.

A MILLIONAIRE'S WILL.

His Relatives Get Small Bequests and the Residue Goes to Charity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Charles Bartholomew Beck, the West Farms millionaire, who died a week ago, it is said, left an estate which will foot up $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. The will has not yet been filed, but it is understood that Mr. Beck bequeathes to several legatees nearly $500,000, of which Mr. Jessup, who for years has been Mr. Beck's right-hand man, and his mother receive about $250,000.

With one or two exceptions the rest of the legatees receive money in lots of not over $10,000, and the residue of the estate is divided into seven parts, to be devoted to educational and charitable purposes.

The first institution mentioned is Columbian college of the school of law of which Mr. Beck was a graduate. Nearly $1,000,000 is set apart to endow four law scholarships, establish prizes and for the benefit of the institution proper.

The board of Presbyterian missions is next in the list of beneficiaries, and is remembered by a gift of many thousands of dollars.

The Peabody home for old women, the New York hospital, the home for incurables and Dr. Parkhurst's society for the suppression of vice, complete the list of seven beneficiaries, to whom shares of the residue of $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 are either given outright or left as an endowment.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also comes in for a big slice of the estate.

GERMAN HEGIRA.

Settlers Leaving Kansas to Establish Themselves in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—About 50 more German settlers from Butler county, Kan., are expected to arrive in Baltimore next week under the leadership of Pastor Gyr of the Lutheran church of Brainerd, Kan. They will come to join the German colony on the banks of the Nanticoke river, near Vienna, in Dorchester county, Md.

The settlers had their first taste of the few inclemencies of the eastern shore climate Friday night. Their temporary pastor, Rev. C. Burkart, founder of the colony, was with them, although they did not need his presence to make them comfortable, despite the howling of the storm and the rising waters which overran the fields of their neighbors. At the dawn of the succeeding day their axes were resounding in the woods. The trees came down as before, the logs were hauled and the timber hewed for block houses that are to shelter part of the colonists during the winter. Two of the houses are now ready for erection. They are constructed after the fashion the experienced settlers learned in Russia—firm and compact.

SMUGGLED "GOLD DUST."

It Cost $13,000 and a Life and Was Only Brass Filings.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 20.—Jacob Schaefer, dealer in notions, 49, living at 829 Flushing avenue, was arrested by Detective Carroll on the charge of swindling. Schaefer was taken to Justice Watson's court, Ewen and Powers streets, and held for examination in $5,000.

Joseph Freze of 146 Richardson street and Max Fischer of the same address alleged that Schaefer, on Oct. 7, obtained from them $8,000 and $8,500, respectively, and from Mrs. Catharine Freze, mother of Joseph, $6,500, by selling them brass filings, saying the filings were gold dust.

Schaefer, it is alleged, told the swindled persons that two friends of his had arrived from Russia with gold dust they had smuggled. It was worth $20,000, and they could have it for $13,000. The buyers went to Newark, N. J., where the dust was assayed and weighed, and returned home to Williamsburg, and found the bags contained brass filings. When this was announced Mrs. Freze was attacked by heart disease, and died suddenly.

Horse thief Caught.

IRONTON, O., Oct. 20.—John Bocok, who stole a horse from J. M. Harman of Gallia county, Tuesday evening, was captured nearly all night. Collier was on horseback, and was only a short distance back of Bocok for several miles, but Bocok, being a bareback rider from Sells Brothers' circus, and having neither bridle nor saddle on his horse, got ahead. It is thought Bocok is insane, as he served a term in the insane asylum before. Bocok ran his horse to death.

Yellow Fever Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A report was received at the marine hospital bureau from Surgeon Murray at Brunswick, Ga., stating there were 40 new cases of yellow fever there—30 colored and 10 white—and two deaths, one white and one colored. Two new cases are reported on St. Simon's island. The bureau has received no advice concerning the reported yellow fever on the steamer Merjulio, from Mexico, quarantined at Boston.

Moonshine Distillery Destroyed.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 20.—The largest moonshine distillery in eastern Kentucky was captured and destroyed near Burkesville last night by Deputy Revenue Collector Thompson and a posse. There were two stills, and after destroying them, the officers found 1,500 gallons of beer and whisky, which they emptied. Tom Turner, one of the operators, was captured. The concern had a capacity of 2,500 gallons.

Born on a Barbed Wire Fence.

MONTGOMERY, O., Oct. 20.—Robert McNeal and wife of Warren county were thrown into a wire fence here in a runaway accident. It is said that the former can not recover from his injuries.

A GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

Elephant Trainer Wilson Indicted For Murder.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 20.—The grand jury of Belmont county found an indictment against William Wilson of Cincinnati for murder in the second degree. He was with Cook & Whithby's circus at Martin's Ferry, and got into trouble with a bystander. When Officer George Murphy attempted to arrest him Wilson shot him three times. Murphy died in a few hours.

Wilson is well known in Cincinnati, and is known among circus people all over the country as "Elephant Billy." For years he was chief animal man with Robinson's circus, and got his sobriquet from having charge of the elephants.

After the tragic death of John King, who was crushed to a jelly in a freight car by Chief, the famous man-killing elephant with Robinson's circus, Wilson was the only man who could handle the murderous beast.

On more than one occasion Wilson has saved the lives of people who were attacked by Chief. Wilson had some misunderstanding with the Robinson management and left that show a couple of years ago. This year he signed with Cook & Whithby, having charge of the elephants.

Wilson's reputation is that of a quiet, sober, inoffensive man, and until this time he has never been in trouble.

Attorneys Thomas F. Shay of Cincinnati and Danford of Belmont county have been retained by Wilson's friends to defend him.

Chief, the vicious elephant over whom Wilson had such control, had to be killed. His skeleton and hide are now on exhibition in the Cincinnati zoological gardens.

EXTRAORDINARY ACCIDENT.

Collision of Cablecars in Chicago, but No Lives Lost.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—One of the most extraordinary street railroad accidents on record and which nothing but a miracle saved from being attended with great loss of life and limb, occurred at the junction of Washington street and Fifth avenue.

The cable trains of the West Side road were coming through the tunnel, bound east, when the grip of each car caught in a loose strand which doubled in a knot. This prevented the grip from slackening speed and the two trains dashed forward at a terrific rate. At the rounding of the curve at Fifth avenue, the forward drive dashed into a train of four cars that had stopped to let off passengers, while the third car collided with the second.

The force of the double collision was so great that eight cars were derailed and thrown crosswise on or completely off the track, while the ninth was forced frontward to the roof of the grip. The 200 or more passengers in the different cars thrown into a heap, gave vent to shrieks and cries and the people expected that the dead and maimed would be numbered by the score.

Instead of this, however, the passengers had made their escape through the windows. It was doubted that all had escaped injury save a boy of 14 whose face and limbs had been badly cut. Several of the women passengers fainted after reaching the sidewalk and gauging their narrow escape by the appearance of the wreck.

THE FAIR WILL CLOSE.

Jackson Park Must Be Vacated as Soon as Possible.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20.—There will be neither a world's fair nor an American fair in Jackson park next summer. The exposition will not be prolonged another year. All doubt was settled about it last night at a meeting between the members of the demolition committee of the exposition and the South Park board of commissioners. They agree that the fair should officially end Oct. 30.

The members of the South Park board announced that they would insist upon the exposition company carrying out the terms of its ordinance. These are that the park commissioners take charge of the grounds Jan. 1, 1894. The directors are given until May of the same year to clear off the state and foreign buildings in the north end of the park, and until May 1, 1895, to remove the main structures on the south end of the grounds. The art gallery is the only structure likely to be left intact, and no decision as to this has been reached.

SENATOR BLACKBURN's home paper plainly informs him that he is misrepresenting the people of that section in opposing the repeal of the Sherman bill. He will learn before many years what it is to override the wishes of the people.

SENATOR BLACKBURN is still hearing from that "Kentucky jury." At a mass meeting of the Democrats of Scott County, a resolution was adopted calling on both Kentucky Senators to use all honorable means to bring about a vote on the Repeal bill.

HENRY WATTERSON turned his batteries on the Democratic Anti-Repeal Senators yesterday, and in a two-column editorial in the Courier-Journal gave them a rebuke that ought to call them to their senses and show them just "where they are at." Give them another broadside, Colonel.

THE panic of 1873 was the worst that ever afflicted the American people. It filled the land with tramps and beggars, and made plethoric the purses of Sheriffs and the publishers who advertised their sales. Democrats were not in power then, neither were there any prospects or expectation of cutting down the tariff to "free trade." Wonder what caused that panic, anyhow. Republican rule, to hear G. O. P. editors talk, always brings prosperity.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON is greatly concerned over the passage of the bill repealing the Federal Election law, and thinks "pure elections" are at an end in this country. Speaking of "pure elections," remarks the New York World, "does Mr. Harrison remember one W. W. Dudley? He ought to, for this Dudley was one of his own campaign managers in 1888. He issued a famous circular letter to the chairmen of Republican county committees in Mr. Harrison's own State. That letter assured these committeemen of "the assistance necessary to hold our floaters and doubtful voters and gain enough of the other kind to give Harrison and Morton 10,000 plurality." It directed them to "divide our voters into blocks of five, and put a trusted man with necessary funds in charge of these five, and make him responsible that none get away and that all vote our ticket."

"What does Benjamin Harrison think of this as a recipe for securing "pure elections?"

Kentucky Baptists.

The General Association of Baptists of Kentucky which convenes in Lebanon Saturday, is a body representing sixty-one district associations, composed of 1,482 churches, with membership of 154,131. From the table of statistics furnished by the statistical secretary, we take the following items: During the year 1892 there were 8,742 baptisms; there was contributed to the State Missions $13,600.20, to Home Missions $8,241.40, to Foreign Missions $1,400.28; and for all purposes $390,210.97. The church property is valued at $1,948,485.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

SCHOOL LAWS.

Circular Issued to County Superintendents and Trustees Concerning Certain Sections.

Captain Ed. Porter Thompson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, is preparing a circular letter to all County Superintendents and trustees, calling their attention to features of the school law in matter of furnishing school houses, making inclosures where necessary and providing for a supply of good water.

He cites sections 41 and 78 of the law, and says it is important that these matters be looked after, as a penalty is imposed on the delinquent trustees of a fine from $25 to $100 each.

He enumerates the articles of furniture required, as a desk and chair for the teacher, a seat, patent or otherwise, with a back for each child, writing desks or tables, blackboard space of at least fifty feet square, a wash stand, gong or call bell, terrestrial globe, wall maps of the world, the United States and Kentucky, and such charts on reading, writing, physiology, etc., as the trustees may select.

If there are no funds available for such repairing or purchasing the trustees may levy a tax for four years; and in case of emergency they can borrow such a sum as can be paid off by a four-year tax.

Margaret Reid.

Miss Margaret Reid recently appeared at Harlem Opera House, New York, in DeKoven's "Robin Hood." The World says: "It was a difficult task for Miss Reid to assume the part so intimately associated with Miss D'Arville, but her success was admirable. The contrast in the personalities of the two artists is, in fact, striking. Miss Reid is a slender, fragile-looking, dark-eyed girl. She was daintily coquettish in the first act with Robin Hood and made a pretty picture afterwards in Sherwood Forest. Her action throughout the opera was less robust than that of Miss D'Arville, but was more delicate and maidenly. She has an excellently trained sweet voice, of good compass, and her high notes are exceedingly effective. She earned a well-deserved recall in her solo in the forest scene."

Last of the Season.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway will run its last excursion of the season to Cincinnati on Sunday, November 5th; tickets good returning November 5th, 6th and 7th. This will give excursionists an opportunity to combine business with pleasure and at very low rates. Special train will leave Maysville at 9:55 a. m., arriving at Cincinnati at 11:30 a. m. Round trip rate only $1.25. Besides the star attractions at the different theatres, the German Military, Infantry and Cavalry Band of Berlin, Germany, consisting of eighty pieces, now performing at the World's Fair, will play at Cincinnati Music Hall November 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th.

For further information see small bills or call on C. and O. ticket agent.

For the Farmer.

During recent years there has been a very marked decline in the loss of hogs from disease. Better care and feeding at an earlier age has brought about the change.

The well-known purslane, one of the most persistent weeds that infests farms, is said to produce more seeds than any other plant, one pod containing 3,000 seeds, while each plant will produce twenty or more pods.

It is given out as a fact that sheep pasture on the sea coast enjoy comparative immunity from parasites, which is thought to be due to the regular taking of salt along with the food, conveyed to the herbage by the ocean spray.

Demolished a Barroom.

A C. and O. freight train came near demolishing the St. Nicholas Hotel at Vanceburg Wednesday. As the train was passing, a drawhead pulled out and fell on the track, throwing several cars from the rails. The hotel is only a few feet distant from the track and the cars ran more than half way through the building, completely destroying the bar, office and a part of the dining room. The accident occurred at 7 o'clock. The guests had just finished breakfast, and there were but two persons in the front part of the building, one of whom was slightly injured. The damage is estimated at $1,500.

Short Over $3,000.

State Inspector Gardner filed with the Governor yesterday his report on the condition of the office of County Clerk W. C. Holt, of Pendleton County, showing a deficiency of $3,146.87. Mr. Holt does not, it is understood, deny the facts set forth in the report, and a few days since paid $1,400 on the amount specified. It is stated that he will, at an early date, pay the full amount into the treasury. His sureties are said to be well able to meet the delinquency.

Twenty-Four Hours Make a Day.

The Court of Appeals decided yesterday, in the case of the Commonwealth vs. George N. Murphy, that the law regarding the closing of saloons on election day applies for the whole twenty-four hours and not simply for the time the polls are open.

Expenses of the Late Primary.

The total expenses of the late Democratic primary election amounted to $439.10. It cost each candidate $27.41. Each of them had contributed $40, and $12.55 will be returned to each.

Sons of Veterans.

The camp fire had a large crowd last night. Riverside Quartette will entertain the crowd to-night. Everybody should go and help the Sons out. Ladies free.

There was a rabbit chase up in Ashland one day this week. The News remarks: "It's hard to tell what will be scared up next."

MAYSICK.

From every indication we are likely to have a very exciting town election in November.

J. A. Jackson is now receiving his fall and winter goods which he will sell cheap for cash or trade.

We are having some lovely October weather. Cool nights but pleasant during the day. Fine weather for seedling.

Rev. Cake and wife, Ed. Myall and J. T. Kackley, of Maysville, were up here Wednesday attending our meeting.

Miss Jennie Evans and Mrs. Josie Prather and daughter, Miss Bessie, have returned from Chicago and the World's Fair, delighted with their trip.

The meeting at the Christian Church is still growing in interest, well attended and fine order. Some eight or ten additions. It will continue over next Sunday.

At the Christian Church one morning last week they had a sunrise prayer meeting. Seventy-five present and only eight gentlemen among the number.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Are Animals Ever "Bored?"

Surely mankind has sufficient faults and failings of its own to answer for without being called upon to assume the responsibility of animal failings as well. An American author has discovered that domestic animals, such as cats or dogs, are not only subject to ennui, but also display their feelings under that infliction after very much the same fashion as their human friends, a fact which no one who has kept tame animals will be tempted to deny.

But from this fact our contemporary, The News, leaps to a perfectly unwarrantable conclusion and boldly asserts that ours is the fault, that mankind has inoculated the beast creation with its own particular disease and that it is civilization "which produces ennui, not only in men, women and children, but even in cats and dogs." "We may well blush," it continues, "when we think how man has demoralized the dog. We have taught the dog to be bored. We have corrupted him by our society." And again, "Ennui is one of man's many inventions, but he has taught the unprofitable vice to the domestic or at least to the household animals—pupils only too apt in evil."

Was ever so monstrous a charge leveled against our innocence! The next thing we shall be told is that we are the cause that dogs do bark and bite and that whatever may have been the morality of Dr. Watts his natural history is no better than his poetry. The News, if it is so assured of the demoralizing influence it has exercised upon dogs, is welcome to blush for itself. We prefer to maintain that dogs sorrow under boredom for the same simple reason that they delight to bark and bite, "for their nature to."

Advised For His Good.
They are neighbors on Second avenue, and as they walked down town the other morning one of them observed:

"My wife is crazy to have me buy a new milk cow. What do you think of the idea?"

"Magnificent! You couldn't invest $40 in a way to bring you better returns."

"Much bother and expense!"

"Hardly any. Your milk won't cost you over a cent a quart, and it will be pure milk too. If I had a barn, I'd keep two cows."

"Two or three of my friends have rather discouraged me."

"Don't listen to 'em. Rich cream for strawberries and coffee—pure, sweet milk for the children and kitchen! I've often wondered that you didn't keep a cow. No care, no trouble, no expense. I'll guarantee you'll never regret it. In fact, it is really your duty toward your children."

"Yes, I suppose so. I guess I'll go over to the hay market and buy one and send her up."

Ten minutes later the man who advised was telephoning to a carpenter shop:

"Say, you! One of your men was up at the house yesterday measuring doors and windows for fly screens. I told him to go ahead at $42, but I want to countermand the order. Sold out? Oh, no! My neighbor's going to keep a cow, and that lets eight or ten of us out on the fly question!"—Detroit Free Press.

Distress Among Miners.

BELLEVILLE, Pa., Oct. 20.—Great distress is reported among the miners in the Homestead district. Mines Nos. 5, 8 and 9 have been closed for a long time, and the others are working only half time. Miners Agent James White called a meeting of the employed and unemployed, and it was agreed by the former to divide up the time equally among all the miners. This magnanimous action means but a scanty living for all.

Killed in a Trench.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—By the caving in of a trench at the Homestead steel works, two men were killed outright and five others injured, one of them fatally. The dead are: Andrew Durak, John McMarn. The names of the injured could not be learned, as they were taken at once to their homes.

THROWING MUD AT THE CLOUDS.

CHICAGO, October 18, 1893.
Dear Bulletin: Your correspondent, like the 60,000 kids at the World's Fair yesterday, is having a regular picnic. The air is clear as crystal. The warm sunshine never falters. The trees and flowers look as fresh as if the frost had never touched them.

Passing through Cincinnati I stopped off and heard Bob Ingerson in his role of throwing mud at the clouds. Bob, you know, is a free thinker and yields a free lance. He is an agnostic, having no faith in anything save reason, observation, experience. The holy trinity of science have taught us that happiness is the only good; that the place to be happy is here and the way to be happy is to make others so.

I am fast becoming saturated with the "White" and "Chicago," grandly typical of it all. In my next I will tell you of Manhattan Day, when I expect to see and hear Chauncey M. Depew, Burchie Cochran and others orate. The Tammany boys will be here by the 60,000, with music and banners. I don't believe Kentuckians understand how they can never see the like again, or that they would all be here to see what Chicago can do when she gets about it.

The exhibition was given on a grassy plat near the residence of Dr. Moore, and consisted almost entirely of a display of horses. In fact it was pretty much of a horse show. Forecaster S. S. Bassler, of the Cincinnati branch of the Weather Bureau, has been placed in charge of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Evansville, Ind., for the purpose of making predictions regarding the stages of the water at different points. This work had formerly been done by the river and flood division of the Weather Bureau at Washington. Forecaster Bassler is to commence his river predictions on November 1. It will be his duty to watch the river and make daily reports of the stages of the river at different points, and to predict rises and falls and when they are to be expected at the various stations. These reports will be on the same style as the weather predictions. Captain Bassler will base his river predictions on the rainfalls and stages of the river at higher points.

"LAST WEEK HE SURPRISED OUR CITIZENS BY STEPPING INTO TOWN JUST AS MYSTERIOUSLY AS HE DEPARTED. HE GAVE NO REASON FOR HIS STRANGE CONDUCT, EXCEPT THAT HE WANTED TO GET AWAY. HE IS NOW LIVING IN IOWA, AND DOING WELL. HIS WIFE LIVES IN ABERDEEN, BROWN COUNTY, AND HAS BEEN MARRIED TWICE SINCE HE DISAPPEARED. SHE IS ALSO DOING WELL."

A RATHER NOVEL CASE WAS DECIDED IN THE SUPERIOR COURT THIS WEEK. MRS. SARAH BLACKBURN OWNED A HOTEL IN WINCHESTER A FEW YEARS AGO AND WAS NEGOTIATING A SALE TO A MAN IN CYNTHIANA, ENTERTAINING ANOTHER PREPOSITION ALSO.

She finally concluded to let the Cynthiana man have the hotel at $700 and accordingly wrote a telegram that she was in position to close the bargain.

AN OPERATOR IN THE EMPLOY OF THE KENTUCKY CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY SENT IT WITH THE WORD "IMPOSSIBLE" INSTEAD OF "IN POSITION" AND THE CYNTHIANA MAN NOT PURCHASING SHE WAS AFTERWARDS OBLIGED TO SELL FOR LESS THAN ONE-HALF THE SUM HE HAD OFFERED. SUIT FOR DAMAGES WAS INSTITUTED AND THE COURT BELOW INSTRUCTED THE JURY TO FIND FOR THE PLAINTIFF ONLY 50 CENTS, THE COST OF THE TELEGRAM. THE SUPERIOR COURT REVERSES THIS JUDGMENT AND HOLDS THAT MRS. BLACKBURN SHOULD RECOVER HER ACTUAL LOSS.
